Tim Passmore—Police & Crime Commissioner

Our speaker this week was Tim Passmore, publicly elected as Suffolk's Police and Crime Commissioner some five years ago.

Essentially, he is our voice in the fight against crime, setting the strategy for policing and drawing up the budget for implementation in the many fields of policy. As he spoke you became aware of the wide field of detailed responsibilities, as well as the difficulties of a tight budget, establishing priorities and balancing expectations against realism.

Tim sees this as a time of significant change in the types of crime, with the growth of cyber crime, drug-peddling and domestic abuse. Some of this arises from social problems which cannot be policed out of existence. Answers needs to be sought by enabling better life chances -hence his interest in helping in schools, helping in the business sector with apprenticeship schemes, and supporting various smaller charities.

All this has to be prioritised in terms of finance and staffing. Suffolk Constabulary is under enormous pressure at the moment, a problem which could be eased by a more equitable funding from the government - Norfolk is apparently treated more generously.

It would be impossible to even outline Tim's wide coverage of his field but we were left with a clear impression of a very capable man who well understood his brief and who was following it in a very proactive way.

Two little snippets arising out of question time- more walking police in Ipswich in the near future? and just a little further ahead possibly helped by Brexit problems - support for a northern by-pass for Ipswich?

A new reading of Genesis?!

On the first day, God created the dog and said, "Sit all day by the door of your house and bark at anyone who comes in or walks past. For this, I will give you a life span of twenty years."

The dog said, "That's a long time to be barking. How about only ten years and I'll give you back the other ten?"

And God saw it was good.

On the second day, God created the monkey and said, "Entertain people, do tricks, and make them laugh. For this, I'll give you a twenty-year life span."

The monkey said, "Monkey tricks for twenty years? That's a pretty long time to perform. How about I give you back ten like the dog did?"

And God, again saw it was good.

On the third day, God created the cow and said, "You must go into the field with the farmer all day long and suffer under the sun, have calves and give milk to support the farmer's family. For this, I will give you a life span of sixty years."

The cow said, "That's kind of a tough life you want me to live for sixty years. How about twenty and I'll give back the other forty?"

And God agreed it was good.

On the fourth day, God created humans and said, "Eat, sleep, play, marry and enjoy your life. For this, I'll give you twenty years."

But the human said, "Only twenty years? Could you possibly give me my twenty, the forty the cow gave back, the ten the monkey gave back, and the ten the dog gave back; that makes eighty, okay?"

"Okay," said God, "You asked for it."

So that is why for our first twenty years, we eat, sleep, play and enjoy ourselves.

For the next forty years, we slave in the sun to support our family.

For the next ten years, we do monkey tricks to entertain the grandchildren.

And for the last ten years, we sit on the front porch and bark at everyone.

Life has now been explained to you.

There is no need to thank me for this valuable information.

I'm doing it as a public service.

If you are looking for me I will be on the front porch.
